

ADVISORY BOARD HAS BEEN NAMED

EXECUTIVE BOARD OF FIVE SE-LECTED BY CHAIRMAN
CONNOR.

WILL HANDLE THE CAMPAIGN

C. E. Blake of Madison is Chairman—Blout Not to Be Candidate for Another Term.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 23.—At the time of holding the first state convention in Milwaukee, when W. D. Connor was chosen as state chairman of the campaign committee and a committee of two from each congressional district was named, the resolution passed called for an advisory committee of five to be named by the chairman. This committee was named yesterday by Mr. Connor and is composed of C. E. Blake of Madison as chairman, Dr. E. W. Malone of Waukesha, Albert T. Twomey of Galesville, Michael E. Dillon of Ashland, and M. H. Ballou of Menasha. This committee will have charge of the general campaign work.

Word was given out at the La Follette headquarters late yesterday that State Senator Blout, who has represented the 29th senatorial district since 1894 has announced that he will not be a candidate for reelection and that C. E. Scott of Prairie du Sac, who was a member of the assembly at the last session, would be the republican candidate in that district. Whether Scott will have opposition or not remains to be seen, but it is expected that he will and the fight will be a merry one.

With the exception of Levels, who did not go out into the state this week, all the republican candidates have been out in the state. Fairchild has made several speeches in the southwestern portion of the state and long jumps by automobile, and Mrs. Gorman has even invaded Lewis and Clark and talked about the use of money in politics. Strangers have been doing good work in this section of the state and is being heartily endorsed by the radical county officers.

Senatorial headquarters for La Follette have been opened and it is expected that next week the Cook headquarters will be started and the work rushed of getting the voters into line as fast as possible so that between now and September every county will have been carefully canvassed by representatives of both factions.

NEWS EVENTS OF THE COMING WEEK

Politics Will Furnish Major Share of Interesting Events Throughout the Country.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 23.—Politics as blazing hot as the weather is scheduled for the coming week. State conventions of one or more of the big political parties will be held in Ohio, Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota. The biggest interest is being taken in the Ohio republican convention at Columbus, partly because the President of the United States, and the Vice President, are in power, and partly for the reason that the republicans are heavily alive to the desirability of defeating the reelection of Governor Thomson and thereby removing from the political chess-board one of the strongest candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination two years hence.

With the convention only a few days off the republican party leaders are still at large-headed as to the choice of a candidate to oppose Harmon for the governorship. With half a dozen names under consideration the ultimate choice is still a matter of uncertainty.

The Ohio platform, taken in connection with the keynote speech by Representative Nicholas Longworth, as temporary chairman, will serve as an index to the country by the Republican platform this fall. The platform is expected to contain a ringing endorsement of the entire Taft administration including the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

State conventions of Republicans, Democrats and Populists will be held in Nebraska Tuesday. Interest centers chiefly in the Democratic convention which is expected to develop a spirited fight over the county option plank favored by William J. Bryan.

A contest for the gubernatorial nomination, with the possibility that former Governor John Lind may be drafted to head the ticket against his expressed wish, will be the feature of the Democratic convention in Minnesota. In Iowa the Democratic convention will assemble at Ottumwa to formulate a platform and ratify the results of the recent primary.

The movement of certain men who have been prominent in reform movement in Pennsylvania to place a ticket in the field this fall in opposition to both the Republican and Democratic State tickets will come to a head Wednesday, when a convention to nominate an Independent State ticket will meet in Philadelphia.

In accordance with the provisions of a bill passed at the last session of Congress a special election will be held in Hawaii Tuesday, when the people of the territory will vote for or against liquor traffic in the islands.

President Taft will spend the early part of the week cruising in and around Casco bay on the Maine coast. He is due back at Beverly on Thursday. Immediately upon his return to the summer capital he will meet and confer with various persons in regard to important problems of public interest.

The work of the tariff commission is one of the matters to receive his earliest attention.

The Graft Investigation Committee of the New York legislature, which appointed as a result of the Aldrich scandal to show up the activities of certain State senators and assemblymen who have used their official positions to fatten their bank accounts, will meet Tuesday to begin its inquiry.

The second trial of Lee O'Sell Browne, the Illinois legislator charged with bribery in connection with the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate, is scheduled to begin Monday in the criminal court in Chicago.

Events of the week of interest to the followers of sport will include the inauguration of the Grand Circuit races at Rahmazon, the national polo championships at Narragansett Pier, the Eastern professional golf cham-

THREE PARTY CONVENTIONS

Liquor Question May Split Democratic Rank—Republicans Face Insurgency—Other Parties Meet.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Lincoln, Neb., July 23.—Politics will reach the boiling point in Nebraska next week, when republicans, democrats and populists will hold their state conventions on the same day, as provided by law. The republicans will meet in this city and the democrats and populists at Grand Island.

Interest centers in the conventions of the republicans and democrats, although the work will be confined to the adoption of platforms and the selection of state central committees. Nominations, of course, will be made by the direct primary to be held next month, but the conventions next Tuesday are bound to have an important bearing on the selections to be made at the primaries.

Harmony in G. O. P.
The republican state convention promises to be a harmonious affair. The so-called "insurgent" movement is only an undercurrent in Nebraska, a sort of half-suppressed mutiny as compared with the open insurrection in the neighboring state of Iowa. It is true the party here is divided on the question of endorsement of the new tariff law, and the attitude of one or two congressmen may come in for criticism, but the differences are not so great, it is believed, as to threaten a party split or lead to criticism of the national administration.

The platform is expected to confine itself largely to national issues, and if the late factional fight at Washington enters into the declarations at all it will not be adverse to the insurgents.

County Option.
The democratic convention at Grand Island is expected to furnish the fireworks of the day. The liquor issue is the rock that threatens to split the party and the situation has been made none the less interesting by William J. Bryan's recent activity in behalf of county option. Mr. Bryan dislikes the saloons because, aside from his strict temperance practices, which are well known, he believes that the brewery and saloon element supported Taft in New York, Ohio, Indiana and Nebraska at the last presidential election, and, on the other hand, supported the democratic candidate for governor in Illinois.

Bryan Forces Fight.
Within twenty-four hours after his arrival home from Europe a few weeks ago Mr. Bryan made it plain that he intended to carry the fight for county option into the state convention and throw down the gauntlet to all those opposed to his views. That he is going to meet with a hard fight at Grand Island is already evident. The opposing forces are marshaling for the fray. They include nearly all of the prominent democratic leaders and aspirants for office in Nebraska. Governor Shullenger and Mayor Dahlman of Omaha, a candidate for governor, and Hitchcock and Reed, rival aspirants for the seat of United States senator, have all for the time being buried their differences and agreed to fight Bryan and his county option plank in the state convention. Unless there is a sudden turn of the tide it appears inevitable that Mr. Bryan will meet defeat. The sage of Fairbury, however, holds one trump card in his hand. If forced to it Mr. Bryan can, it is believed, swing the influence of the senatorial aspirants into line for county option by threatening to enter the senatorial race himself if they refuse to accede to his wish.

Populists Support Bryan.
The populists, who will meet simultaneously with the democrats, but in a separate hall, are expected to stand by Bryan, no matter what sort of program he maps out. If they stick to their present intention and the undisciplined fight comes in the democratic convention, it may result in a confusion between the two parties, a contingency not at all to the liking of the candidates for office in either party.

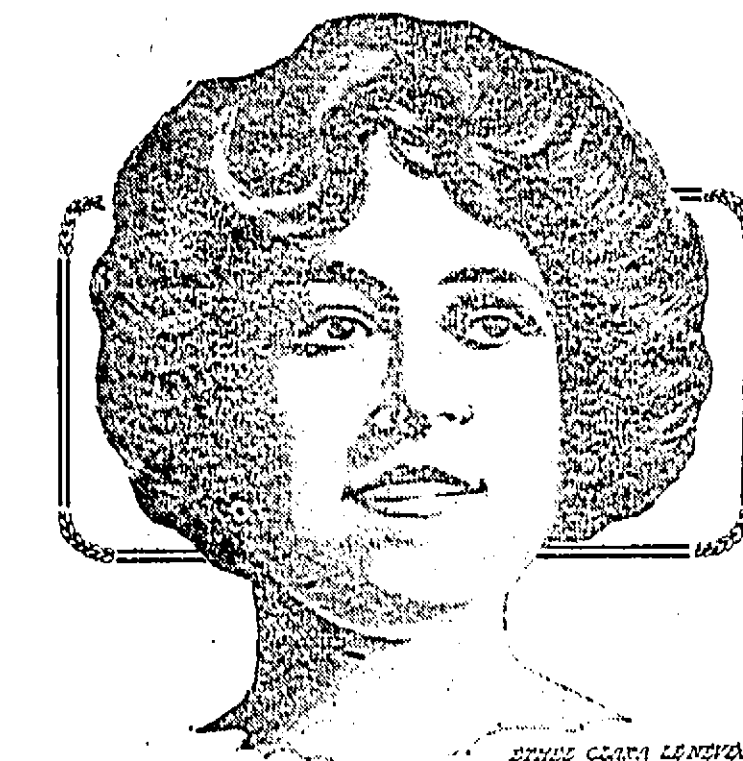

Socialists to Fight.
To add to the complex situation the socialists of the state are planning this year to wage the most aggressive campaign they have ever made. Certain lines of political action have already been determined upon. One of these is that the efforts of the socialists are to be directed henceforth more to extending the organization and developing the membership into an efficient working force than that of missionary work for the spread of socialist ideas in a random sort of way. The party expects to nominate a full state ticket, candidates for United States senator and congressman and candidates for the state legislature in a majority of the districts. Two state conventions are planned, one being the regular political gathering provided by state law to formulate a platform, and the other an assembly whose business will be to consider matters of party policy and the strengthening of the organization.

TEST CASE OF THE WARDEN'S AUTHORITY

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

CLARA LENEVE, DRAWN FROM DETAILED TELEGRAPHIC DESCRIPTION.

How to the Dominion to investigate Government's Position.
London, July 23.—The French typist Clara LeNeuve, who is supposed to be with Dr. Crippen, is quite as much sought after as the doctor himself, who is directly charged with the murder of his wife.

It is generally acknowledged that should the doctor be located and brought to justice, the government will have hard work to make a case against him without the evidence of Clara LeNeuve. So carefully was the murder of Mrs. Crippen covered that it is impossible to even prove that the body found is that of the wife.

Police of every port in every country continue to search for the pair, although there continues to be a feeling that the fair typist may, too, have met with foul play.

Suspect Arrested.

Chicago, July 23.—Detectives here arrested Albert C. Richard of London, under the impression he was Dr. H. H. Crippen, wanted in that city for wife murder. He was released after proving his identity.

National bank of Mineral Point, Wis. will shortly receive a small additional dividend on their claims. A Gambler's Superstitions.

Like so many incurable gamblers, Kluge is exceedingly superstitious. All his speculations were carried out in sums divisible by three, and he informed the judge that this was a temperamental necessity to him. He never spent money that he had won, as he believed that it brought bad luck in play, and on one occasion he and a lady companion traveled all the way from Paris to Berlin without eating rather than touch a sum of $1,000 which one of his three-hour spells at the blackjack table had brought him in.

CHARACTER READING

"I thoroughly believe in physiognomy," said Bartlett to Standish, as they smoked their cigars in the billiard room of the Oakhurst club. Standish was a new member and Bartlett was trying to make it pleasant for him. "Its deductions are well-nigh infallible," ended Bartlett.

"It is an interesting study," replied Standish. "Though I should hardly attach great importance to its teachings. I've dabbled in it myself."

"Oh, have you? Been at it long?"

"I took it up about two years ago. A work on physiognomy started me."

"Of course you are aware that physiognomy is but one department of physiognomy. The figure, the carriage, the habits of the man as evidenced, say, by his clothes, his neatness or the lack of it and so on, all must be taken into account in forming a judgment of character."

"I quite agree with you," said Standish. "To a certain extent these appearances may guide one in making an estimate. And yet mistakes are likely to occur."

"For instance," said Bartlett. "Give us your reading of that big fellow playing pool at the second table."

"Well," said Standish, "to begin with, like most large men, he is lazy, lacks ambition, sleeps a good deal, is a sort of muttonhead. He will be slow and his perceptions are dull. He's a heavy eater—a glutton, I might say. He's a poor money getter, because he's too stupid to be shrewd. On the other hand, that thick neck and those heavy eyebrows denote temper and brushiness. I think he beats his wife!"

"Humph!" ejaculated Bartlett, dubiously. "How about the young fellow who's playing with?"

"Sort of a snuff-dog. Low brow and cigarette indicative of conceit in intelligence. Judge from occasional remarks which float this way that he's a little shy on good breeding. Standish and concealed air shows him to be a cad. Tastes probably coarse and he's likely to play the prodigal son later on in life. He may be like a slugged cat—better than he looks—but I should classify him as small potatoes and few in the hill. Wonder how near I've hit it. Do you know them?"

Bartlett winced and looked somewhat embarrassed, as he said:

"I am on speaking terms with them. They are my brother-in-law and his son, my nephew."

Standish laughed heartily. "Well, I did put my foot in it that time. But of course I didn't know."

"Of course not," said Bartlett, apparently ruffled by Standish's amusement.

"To be sure," said Standish, "the tendencies, as plainly indicated by the facts of physiognomy may be modified by what one might call the accidents of education and all that; so one's judgment may be at fault."

"I don't think you need apologize," said Bartlett. "If I feel any annoyance I've brought it on myself."

"Would you say that my inferences were improperly drawn?" asked Standish.

"Oh, I guess not. Ah, I see there are ladies present."

"Where?"

"Over there talking to Sanderson."

"Oh, yes! That's—by the way, old man, do you know them?"

"No," said Bartlett; "strangers to me."

"I was about to ask you," said Standish, quickly, "to let me hear your analysis of character from outward appearances. You're an expert and I should like to learn. Here's a chance. How about them?"

"Well," replied Bartlett with a little laugh, brightening up, "I rather flatter myself on my success in deciphering lovely women by the rules of our science."

"Now," he went on, "this is a case of mother and daughter. The resemblance is very striking. Mother rather dowdy. She has a poor dressmaker, denoting false economy in the matter of expenditures. Probably she's a poor housekeeper. Head small, excessively vain. Manners evidently affected, indicating desire to break into a social set where she doesn't belong and can't remain if she gets in. On the whole, a member of the vulgar middle class."

"And the daughter—"

"Well, she's modern. Mother's traits will be toned down by environment, which is plainly that of well-to-do people. Don't think her taste in dressing shows much refinement. Rather a good-looking child, but not an intellectual face by any means. Wonder who they belong to. Friends of the Stewards, probably. They're coming this way?"

"Standish, whose sense of humor seemed to be decidedly elemental, roared with laughter. 'I wanted to give you a chance to get square with me,' he said, 'and you certainly did. My dear, this is Mr. Bartlett. He's been telling your fortune.'"

For a second time Bartlett's face was a study.

GEN. WOOD HAS PRAISE FOR FORT MONROE HEROES

Lieutenants Hawes and Van Deusen Are Especially Commended for Heroic Conduct.

Washington, July 23.—Officers returning from Fort Monroe detailed at length to General Wood, chief of staff of the army, and other department officials stories of valor and sacrifice when the explosion of the big gun at battle practice at the fort occurred.

These personal reports were augmented by further telegraphic reports from Lieut. Col. C. P. Townsley of the coast artillery corps, commandant of the fort.

Lieutenant Hawes is praised by the commandant for having extinguished with his bare hands burning material that threatened to ignite the second charge, which was on its way to the emplacement.

Conspicuous in the group of those whose heroic conduct attracted attention was Lieutenant Van Deusen, who suffered a broken leg from the body of one of his men being hurled against him. His body also was burned by gas. He was the timekeeper during the target practice.

Following the receipt of the reports General Wood sent a telegram to Fort Monroe expressing his sympathy for the bereaved and suffering, and his appreciation of the "excellent conduct" of the officers and enlisted men.

The war department has begun a rigid investigation to determine the cause and fix the responsibility for the explosion of the gun.

WAS HELD IN THE RAWN CASE

POLICE AND CORONER QUESTION CHAUFFEUR OF LATE RAIL OFFICIAL.

WILL INVESTIGATE HIS ALIBI

Former Employee Is Declared to Have Made Threats Against Life of Employer, But Makes Denial—Wife Makes Statement.

Chicago, July 23.—Ernest Stevens, a negro chauffeur, formerly employed by Ira G. Rawn, former president of the Monon railroad, was arrested at the instance of Coroner Hoffman, under suspicion of having shot Mr. Rawn Wednesday morning in his Winnetka residence.

The young negro came through a four-hour third degree ordeal at the hands of Coroner Hoffman, Deputy Police Chief Schuetzler and a half dozen detectives with a story that was practically unshaken. Although he was held that his statement might be verified, the authorities were about ready to admit that he had no part in the tragedy at Winnetka.

Says Negro Made Threats.

The arrest of young Stevens came about through a report made to the coroner by H. P. Cullen, a collector, who reported to Coroner Hoffman that the negro had made threats against Mr. Rawn last May.

Cullen told the coroner that he had learned that Stevens had been discharged as the Rawn chauffeur for joy riding. He threw this up to Stevens when the chauffeur was unable to pay a bill for a diamond ring. He declared that Stevens said in referring to Mr. Rawn:

"D— that white man; I'll get him yet."

Stevens denied this time and again during his examination. He expressed great admiration for his former employer. He said that he had been discharged only because Mr. Rawn had sold his car. He dared the authorities to telephone to Ralph G. Coburn, Mr. Rawn's son-in-law, if they did not believe him.

Accused Tells Truth.

Coroner Hoffman took the negro at his word and reached Mr. Coburn at Winnetka and Mr. Coburn said the negro was telling the truth. He had been an excellent chauffeur, except for the fault that he was often late in keeping appointments. Mr. Coburn would not believe that Stevens bore Mr. Rawn any malice.

Stevens furnished the police with a detailed account of his movements Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. He was nowhere near Winnetka. The police are verifying his statements and if Stevens has told the truth he will be freed.

With the chauffeur suspect out of the way the theory that Mr. Rawn took his own life because he could no longer stand the strain of worrying over prospective disclosures of Illinois Central graft stands almost alone.

May Have Been Accident.

Even members of his family are beginning to doubt their first belief that a burglar fired the shot. They admitted the possibility that he had tripped on his night gown while coming downstairs and shot himself by accident.

Mrs. Rawn, the railroad's widow, although too prostrated to attend the funeral, roused herself by sheer force of will to dictate a statement detailing the events of Wednesday morning as nearly as she could remember them.

Mrs. Rawn was sure of only one shot. She was not certain that she heard a scream. The noise which made her scream might have been the fall of her husband's body, for all she knows. She heard no one running away.

MOB MAY LYNCH WHITE YOUTH.

Young Man Charged With Brutal Murder of Planter's Daughter.

STRIKERS ACCEPT PEACE PLANS.

Grand Trunk Trainmen Are Willing to Arbitrate Their Trouble.

Montreal, Quebec, July 23.—Vice-President James Murdoch, representing the general committee of the Grand Trunk and Central Vermont conductors and trainmen, in a telegraphic message to Ottawa, accepted Minister of Labor King's suggestion for arbitration of the Grand Trunk wage dispute by a board to be named by the government mutually satisfactory to both parties involved.

An official statement issued by the company says:

"The situation continues to improve. Every scheduled passenger train on this division is now in operation. Way freight left Montreal for the west and a fast freight for the south. Way freight left Portland and another left Gorham, N. H."

Bellefleur, Ont., July 23.—Violence has entered into the Grand Trunk strike. As the result of an outbreak here on the arrival of a Grand Trunk train from Toronto, John McManis, its acting conductor, and M. Donovan, brakeman, are lying in a hospital, in a critical condition. As the men left their train they were set upon by a hundred or more persons and severely beaten. The injured men were carried into a hotel, which was shortly afterward bombarded by stones and considerably damaged.

TAFT MAKES TALK IN DRIZZLE.

President Addresses Town Folks on Village Green in Bar Harbor.

Bar Harbor, Me., July 23.—President Taft forsook his golf game at the Kelo Valley links at the twelfth hole, rode over to the village green here and made a speech to the townsfolk. A crowd of several thousand greeted the president, who was in his jolliest mood. The president entered into the full spirit of his strenuous vacation and in yachting, trousers, blue coat and white yachting hat he beamed broadly upon the crowd that cheered him in the drizzle of rain that fell while he spoke.

Mr. Taft devoted himself largely to the philosophy of summer vacation in his address. The American people, he said, are learning the value of rest. The president advocated vacations of two or three weeks a year and the crowd which had just come from work in the shops applauded vigorously.

Immediately after the conclusion of his speech the president and his party entered motor coaches and were driven over to the villa of Mrs. Mark Hanna in Deal Harbor, where they were entertained at lunch. In the evening the party were dinner guests of Charles Magnus Tower, former ambassador to Germany, at his place at North East Harbor.

BUILDING UNIONS IN BIG WAR.

Chicago, July 23.—What is expected to be one of the most bitterly fought industrial struggles that has occurred in Chicago in years was begun when business agents of various building trades unions called strikers on three buildings, either in course of construction or repair, that brought idleness to 2,300 workmen.

At a meeting of the Building Trades' council it was predicted that within the next week 7,000 building trades workers would be on strike and that this number would be augmented soon afterward by thousands of others.

CANNON IS AN AD TO TRUSTS

SENATOR BRISTOW MAKES DIRECT CHARGE IN SPEECH AT MANHATTAN, KAN.

GAIN TO THE GUGGENHEIMS

Insurgent Charges That Speaker and Other Standpatters Manipulated Tariff Schedules—Cites Figures to Show Rates Are Excessive.

Manhattan, Kan., July 23.—That Speaker Cannon and his associates in congress raised the duty on lead ore to $42.50 a ton as a favor to the Guggenheim smelter trust and in defiance of the Republican national platform was the sensational declaration of Senator Bristow, the Kansas insurgent, in a speech here.

"A duty not measuring the difference in the cost of smelting at home and abroad, as promised in the Republican platform, but from $2.50 to $8 higher than entire cost of smelting in this country was imposed on lead," the senator said.

"This was done, not in the interest of protecting a struggling American industry, but in the interest of a monopoly, controlled by the Guggenheims, backed by the great Rockefeller financial interests."

"Because I presume to object to this sort of thing, Mr. Cannon calls me a Democrat, a demagogue, a lunatic and pickpocket."

Pointed Quotations for Speaker.

"Mr. Cannon, holding the office of speaker of the house, second in power and dignity in this government, has been routed over Kansas for a number of days denouncing the 'insurgents,' myself in particular. Instead of indulging in vituperation, why doesn't he give the reasons why he insisted on ignoring the plain, specific declarations of the Republican national platform? Why did he stand by the senate in the interest of the Guggenheims?"

"The duty on lead in ore, as the tariff bill passed the house, was $30 a ton. The duty on pig lead, or lead bullion, was the same. The bill went to the senate and was referred to the committee on finance, of which Mr. Aldrich is chairman, and was increased from $30 to $42.50 a ton, making a difference of $12.50 between the lead in the ore and the lead bullion."

"Therefore, according to the Republican national platform and our campaign pledges, $12.50 a ton should measure the difference in the cost of smelting lead in the United States and in competing countries."

Figures of 'Smelter' Expert.

"Edward B. Rush, general manager of the American Smelting and Refining company, an organization which controls 90 per cent. of the lead smelters of the United States, testified before the ways and means committee of the house, that the entire cost of reducing lead from ore to bullion, from actual figures, ranged from $5.55 to $10.50 a ton. No witness before the ways and means committee gave as the entire cost of smelting a greater figure than $10 a ton."

"A most vigorous effort was made in the senate to reduce the duties of the senate bill back to those provided in the house measure, but without effect. To protect our struggling American industries, a duty, not measuring the difference in the cost of smelting at home and abroad, but a duty of from $2.50 to $8 a ton more than the entire cost of smelting at home was imposed."

Cummins Helps Kansans.

Council Grove, Kan., July 23.—Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa in a speech before the chautauqua audience here asserted that the pledge of the Republican national platform for a revision of the tariff was not fulfilled and that Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon and the others who took the lead in framing the tariff bill had never attempted and never intended to keep the pledges of the party.

Senator Cummins came into the home of one of the Kansas regular congressmen, James M. Miller, to give this message. The message was cheered for a minute when he started his speech.

Denies New Party Rumor.

When shown a report from Des Moines to the effect that he favored the organization of a third party to take up the progressive propaganda, Senator Cummins said: "I have never thought of a new party."

"Ravings," Says Cannon.

Danville, Ill., July 23.—When Speaker Cannon was shown the speech made by Senator Bristow at Manhattan, Kan., and asked what reply, if any, he had to make to the remarks of Mr. Bristow, the speaker said: "I do not care to discuss or to pay any attention to the ravings and screams of Senator Bristow, and those who cooperate and scream with him, and are joined in an effort to put the Republican party out of business."

Regan Chosen Hibernian Head.

These sort of facts, told by owners to others, have created the wonderful demand for these marvelous cars.

A 25-horse power Overland, with 102 inch wheel base sells for $1,000. A 40 horse power Overland, with 112 inch wheel base sells for $1,250 with single rumble seat. The finest of the Overlands—called the Marion Overland—sells for $1,250. All prices included gas lamps and magneto. We invite you to come and see these cars—the cars that have captured the country. You will agree with the rest in regarding the Overlands as the most desirable cars that are made.

ACQUIT CITIZENS OF LYNCHING.

Twelve Cairo (Ill.) Men Are Found Not Guilty by Jury.

Cairo, Ill., July 23.—Verdicts of not guilty were returned in the cases of 12 Cairo citizens, charged in indictments with having been leaders of the mob which stormed the Alexander county jail and lynched the negro, John Pratt, the night of February 15 last. The jury was out two hours. The court had previously ordered a verdict of not guilty for W. C. Charles, while a request for a similar verdict for George H. Walker had been made by the state's attorneys. The case consumed nearly ten days in its trial.

SHELLS IMPERIL TWO ON YACHT.

Harry Payne Whitney and Brother Pass Through Port's Fire.

Newport, R. I., July 23.—It was learned here that Harry Payne Whitney and his brother, Payne Whitney, had a narrow escape during the target practice at Fort Wetherill and Groble. Two shells placed the main sail of the former's steam yacht Atlantic as it was passing the forts. The brothers were seated beneath the boom and the shells passed but a few feet above their heads.

KILLS SELF TO SAVE HOME.

Kansas Tells Wife to Meet Mortgage With Insurance Money.

Hutchinson, Kan., July 23.—To prevent the foreclosure of a mortgage on his home, W. H. Israel of Lawla, Kan., shot and killed himself in a rooming house here. Israel was proprietor of a merchandise store at Lawla. He left this note:

"Dear Wife—Take the insurance and pay off the mortgage on the house, the store will have to go. Forgive me."

FIVE PERISH IN HOTEL BLAZE.

Hostelry at Hoquiam, Wash., Is Destroyed by Fire.

Hoquiam, Wash., July 23.—It is now believed five persons perished in the fire which destroyed the Hotel Hoquiam. The body of C. E. Junnet, a fireman, was taken from the ruins. There were two other known dead and two missing.

Freed to Help Harvest Crop.

Georgetown, Ky., July 23.—A novel method to save the wheat crop of Scott county was resorted to when a number of farmers appeared before the county judge and paid the fines of ten prisoners in the jail in order to get help to harvest the crop.

The Rush for Wealth.

There are multitudes of people in the world today who are steering and sailing for Ophir, simply because it is the land of gold. What will they do if they reach their desired haven? They do not know. They do not even ask the question. They will be rich. They will sit down on their gold. Let us look our desires squarely in the face. To win riches, to have a certain balance in the bank, and a certain rating on the exchange, is a real object, a definite object; but it is a frightfully small object for the devotion of a human life, and a bitterly disappointing reward for the loss of an immortal soul. If wealth is our desired haven, we may be sure that it will not satisfy us when we reach it.—Henry van Dyke.

Telephones on Steamships.

The telephones used on the steamship Lusitania are quite interesting. The induction coil, condenser and bell of the instrument are inclosed in a small white enamel box, and the switch hook which projects from one side is provided with a special retaining device to prevent the receiver from being knocked off by the motion of the ship. The receiver is allowed to rock on the hook, otherwise the lever would lift and make a false connection when the ship was pitching and rolling.

BE READY WHEN YOUR CHANCE COMES

Opportunity Comes to Everybody, But It Is Useless If One Is Not Prepared to Take Advantage Of It

W. W. Dale, Pres.

Who by faithful performance of duty and strict adherence to honest business principles, has built up the best known, the most meritorious, and the most successful business college in Southern Wisconsin—a school that in point of high-grade instruction, thorough courses of study, progressive methods, and conscientious management, stands without a rival in this part of the country.

Who has done much to elevate and dignify business education in Wisconsin.

Who has devoted almost 20 years to training young men and women to meet the exacting requirements of business life.

Who has been personally instrumental in giving hundreds of worthy young people the "right start" in life.

Who takes a personal interest in the welfare and advancement of students, encouraging, stimulating, assisting and recommending them at every opportunity.

Who has made a success of his own business and knows how to instill the spirit of success in his students.

Who ranks high in the esteem and confidence of the business public, and whose personal recommendation insures careful consideration, because it signifies standing and merit.

Geniuses make opportunity. But geniuses are rare. The ordinary man has to wait till it comes along, and then use it to get success, or fame, or money, or power, or whatever happens to be the object of his ambition.

You will hear a good many people say that they have waited all their lives for opportunity to knock at their doors and never heard so much as a footstep. But such people are only accounting for their own failures. The easiest of all excuses to make is for failure.

But in every enlightened nation, the man who knows opportunity when he sees it and WHO IS PREPARED TO MAKE USE OF IT, can never complain that he has had no chance.

It makes little difference how humble is the station in which a man begins life if he is only determined not to stay there. The

Southern Wisconsin Business College

Was specially organized specially equipped, and is conducted along special lines to help the young man or woman who feels that opportunity has not come their way. We have STARTED hundreds of young people on the road to success, some of whom are now owning a business of their own, some are managers of corporations, some court reporters, private secretaries or confidential clerks. A business education opened to them the door of opportunity. Let us give you the "right start". We can open the door of opportunity for you if you will complete our courses.

All Business Schools Do Not Teach Business

As it is practiced in the best business houses.

We are anxious to have every young person who is thinking of securing a business education to examine our record as shown by the success of our graduates. With scarcely an exception you will notice our graduates always secure the BEST positions in every office, not the second and third rate positions. This shows the HIGH GRADE work which we are doing.

Besides our courses are PRACTICAL AND MODERN to the smallest detail. Our students consume LESS TIME in securing our high grade courses than those who take the superficial courses in other schools. This shows the excellence of our teaching staff.

We Employ No Solicitors

None of the high grade schools of the country employ solicitors to get patronage. Many a young man and woman has come to us after finding he or she has been deceived through flattering statements made by some smooth tongued solicitor. Parents and intending students are warned to sign no contracts or scholarship of any kind. High grade schools all over the country require no contract or scholarship, because if the work done has merit no agreements of any kind are necessary. ## Weight of One-Dollar Bills.

Most persons would be surprised to learn that one-dollar bills are worth almost their weight in gold.

A twenty-dollar gold piece weighs 540 grains. Twenty-seven crisp, new one-dollar bills, fresh from the bureau of engraving and printing, weigh the same as the gold piece.

Bills that have been in use have been tested, and it has been found that it took but 26 of them to balance the gold piece. It follows, of course, that the used bills gather an accumulation of various matter, in passing from hand to hand, that causes them to take on additional weight equal to about that of one new bill.—Harper's Weekly.

Little Waldo Suffers.

"It's disgusting," said Mrs. Waldo Deanehill of Boston; "the makers of children's blocks never think of putting Greek letters on them; and there is my poor little Emerson simply dying of ennui for the want of a good fairy tale in words of moderately extensive syllabification."

Diplomatic Dress for 75 Years.

During the first seventy-five years of independence our consuls as well as diplomats wore a uniform or official dress, as it was called, prescribed by the state department, and modified from time to time. The last changes were made for Mr. Livingston, secretary of state for Andrew Jackson, and the diplomatic dress consisted of a blue coat and blue pantaloons, with gold embroidery and a white waistcoat. Though simple in form, it represented the diplomatic dress of other countries. The consular attire was similar, though the naval button was prescribed and the costume had something of a naval air. Diplomats and consuls wore small swords, but no epaulettes.

Help Your Brother.

Help from the strong for the weak, help from the great for the small, help from the free for the slaves, help from the thinkers for the ignorant, help from the solitary for the multitudes—such is the law—Victor Hugo.

In the Development of Advertising

Most progressive merchants recognize three stages in its construction.

Competitive advertising, that which meets the efforts made by rival stores in the same line.

Educational advertising where competition exists, that which educates the public to the policies of the stores, educates the public as to the service, the class of goods, etc.

And Educational advertising where no competition exists, that which suggests certain needs which do not now exist and then educates the public to the use thereof.

The third stage has great possibilities in the introduction of new things as it is an actual creative force when intelligently executed.

Educational advertising where competition exists however of greater importance in general merchandising because it establishes a character and prestige which when once firmly established remains for a generation. Examples of stores that have successfully employed this style of advertising are many and the class of business handled by such stores is the very best. One remarkable fact stands out which every earnest investigator cannot help but see and that is; in every city the best store to trade not only employs educational advertising very extensively but employs it more extensively than any of its competitors. It is a truism that the biggest store in every city is the biggest user of newspaper advertising and that its enviable position has been secured through its publicity.

The biggest store is the biggest advertiser. The biggest advertiser is the biggest store.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

THEN you don't trust me."

"My dear, you know perfectly that I'd trust you anywhere and that I feel you are safe with Carl as you would be with your own brother."

"Then why on earth, mother, can't he come to call on me even if I am going to be alone in the house. I think it's perfectly absurd."

"Because it won't look well, Dorothy, and we live in a world of other people."

"Looks, looks, looks—Oh, I am so sick of hearing about 'looks.' What difference do appearances make if I do what's right?"

As I listened to that conversation the other day between one of my friends and her eighteen-year-old daughter, I wondered if there were a mother in the land of convention hating young folks who had not had a somewhat similar conversation with her particular Dorothy.

Again and again, both in my own and other people's homes and in my letters, I've met the substance of that important question of Dorothy's—

"What difference do appearances make if I do what's right?"

Just the difference between a clean, good road and a rough, uneven road strewn with obstacles; just the difference between a fair wind and a continually opposing one, on the highway to success and achievement.

Sometimes the rebels against convention say, "But if it is a question between conscience and convention, between doing right and appearing to do right, isn't it much better to be true to yourself?"

Absolutely and always "Yes," if you are sure that what you think is right, is right.

But I don't believe that problem will arise more than two or three times in a lifetime.

The choice is far more often between convention and pleasure, between doing what is morally right but conventionally wrong and what is both morally right and conventionally right.

And when that question arises why not win for yourself at the sacrifice of a little pleasure, a temporary inclination, the clean, good road and the fair wind that comes from standing well in the opinions of your fellow men.

Satisfy yourself first always. That's right. But after that try to satisfy your fellow men, too, for that is expedient, and expediency has its place in this world as well as morality.

"My character is my own but my reputation belongs to any old body who enjoys gossiping more than telling the truth," I read the other day in a book of epigrams.

Like most epigrams, it sounds good, but it isn't wholly true, for your reputation is also your own if you will take the pains to keep it so.

"The Chinese have a proverb—

"Do not pull up your stockings in a melon patch or straighten your hat in a peach orchard; anyone seeing you may think you are stealing."

Expressed in more straightforward fashion we find the same thought nearer home.

"Avoid the appearance of evil."

HEALTH AND MORALS.

BY MARY RUSSELL.

If more women would inform themselves upon the questions of health and morals, the effects upon the nation would be far-reaching.

There would be fewer invalids and more in the next generation.

We cannot disguise from ourselves that the matter of informing or instructing the child in matters vital to its well-being as well as to its education and moral outlook is still in the hands of the mothers.

Mothers, therefore, must know how to bring up a child which will not be a monstrous in body, mind or morals.

There is no royal road to health. The dyspeptic, the constipated, the child with a twist in mind or body is not found only among the poor.

The strong, clean bodies of the workers in the fields is one of the signs God has sent us. This, then, is the way out. When the statistician is pulling up records of weak and insane and morally tainted citizens he does not reckon the field laborer, who has not been forced to toil too early or too strenuously.

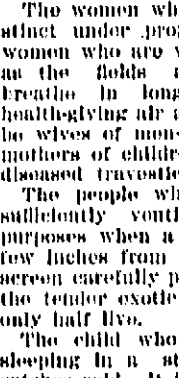

The big out doors, and work for the body which calls for a certain exercise of the brain—that is the way to defeat the microbes and disease germs.

The women who have the cypsel instinct under proper control are the women who are wholesome and fresh as the fields and flowers. They breathe in long, deep breaths of health-giving air and fit themselves to be wives of men—no mindless—the mothers of children, not helpless and diseased travesties of human life.

The people who think a room is sufficiently ventilated for sleeping purposes when a window is raised a few inches from the bottom, and the person carefully placed so as to shield the tender exotic body from a draft, only half live.

The child who is accustomed to sleeping in a strong breeze seldom catches cold. It is the little half-dressed limbs that are liable to the attacks of disease.

A family who had been flat dwellers until they had lost all kinship for the soil, were ordered into the open by a wise physician for the benefit of the fruit and fresh little daughter. They lived in tents and passed through all the changes that our variable climate can bring on the great sympathy instruments of nature. They were baked by burning sun, and wet by driving rains, and yet never, during the entire vacation, did they, any of them, take cold. The winds might blow across them as they slept, but it did not harm them. They found that if you open your lungs wide enough you can overcome all the conditions which create the ill-health that is accumulated by a shut-in flat existence.

Children who are well are nearly always happy. Children who are happy are usually good.

Oh, it works in a circle, and we must be wise enough to get into the ring. This is the light of our lives—this for health—for on health depends wealth, wisdom, happiness and morality.

MISS KATE ADAMS, Woman Chief of Police in Chicago this week.

Chicago—Miss Kate Adams, secretary to Le Roy T. Steward, chief of police, became actual head of the department this week when the chief set forth on a week's vacation trip and for the first time in history 3,000 blue-coats fell under the rule of a woman.

Assistant Chief Schuttler is, of course, officially the acting chief, but Miss Adams is carrying on the work Chief Steward does when he is here.

Keen, alert and purposeful, Miss Adams took the helm and directed smoothly the routine of the busiest police department in the world. The observations she has made in the months since her appointment as Chief Steward's "confidential man" have prepared Miss Adams to step into the chief's official shoes.

Those of the "pavement powder" who had not been advised of the chief's vacation plans never suspected the king was gone and a queen was reigning.

Miss Adams stepped in as acting chief at a time when the police department is grappling with one of the most puzzling death mysteries in its annals, therefore, it isn't an easy matter to see her.

The great volume of advertising carried in these columns is due to the great circulation of The Gazette. 5,000 homes receive The Gazette daily and from this large number of homes many advertised each day.

A PREJUDICED WOMAN. Some women, because of prejudice, would rather go about with a scant supply of hair, proudly asserting to their friends that their hair is not false, but is what nature gave them. All very well. But how do they look when they appear in public? A certain lady whose scruples would not permit her to wear a coiffure, dropped into our establishment one day. We persuaded her to try on a coiffure which matched her own hair beautifully. That try on convinced her and overcame her prejudice. She wears one right now and her friends are none the wiser.

OLDEST LIVING CREATURES

Glant Tortoise Brought to London From Mauritius Probably Entitled to That Honor.

What species of animal lives to the greatest age is a question that has not been satisfactorily answered, but it is contended that a glant tortoise brought to the London zoological gardens from Mauritius about ten years ago is probably the oldest living creature whose age is positively known.

This tortoise, which weighs a quarter of a ton, has lived at least one hundred and sixty years, as historic documents prove.

It is said that one hundred years is a good old age for an elephant and that no other animal except certain birds and reptiles and the whale reach this span of years. In 1821 there died at Peterborough, in England, a tortoise whose age was said to be two hundred and twenty years. One in science, at least, is known of a tortoise which was still growing when eighty years old.

The sight of business men going to and from places of business and of women making their shopping rounds in the Japanese rickshaw may not be a novel one in this city if the plans of a local company for importing a number of the rickshaws here for hire materialize. There are a number of rickshaw coolies in the local Japanese district, and it is the intention of the promoters of the company to have these men, clad in suitable uniforms, for their work.—Vancouver Letter to the Portland Oregonian.

A cloudy umulsion pressed from the green fruit of the Martinique banana has been found to contain ten per cent. of rubber, equivalent to 50 per cent. of the dry weight of the expressed juice. Analysis showed that the green banana skins contain as much as 20 per cent. of rubber, while the dried skins yielded seven per cent. of rubber and seven per cent. of wax, resin and chlorophyll. Some varieties are reported to be even richer in rubber than the Martinique banana.

A SUGGESTION

How to Spend An Enjoyable Evening

Spend the evening on the river. A trip up the river by starlight or moonlight—the moon is now at its full—is a wonderfully pleasant recreation; healthful, too. So much different from ordinary forms of recreation that it is most delightful; not only that, but the trip is full of surprises. The scenery is most beautiful, especially so at evening time, when the shadows play fantastically along the water's edge.

The trip can be made at a very nominal price in one of our boats, which are always in neat, clean condition. Under supervision of skillful pilots.

Try a trip of an evening.

WAS BADLY HURT IN AN ACCIDENT

Beloit Young Woman Bruised and Cut on Arm and Clothes Torn When Thrown From Motor Cycle.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Clinton, Wis., July 22.—Two young men with motor cycles came up from Beloit yesterday and each had a young lady seated on a cushion side ways in front of him. When just outside of Clinton and coming down on hill at a 25-mile an hour rate, ran in-front of the other and to avoid a serious collision the second man turned his machine out of the road, and the young lady took a bad fall as he could not unless he had all four wheels to throw. The young lady was badly bruised and cut on the right arm and her waist and skirt were badly torn. The young man was uninjured but the machine was badly bent and twisted. After the lady's injuries were dressed at Woodward's drug store, they continued on their way refusing to tell their names. It was a lucky thing that the injuries were not more serious.

Dr. C. W. Collier and family expect to go to Delavan Lake Saturday morning and occupy their cottage on the assembly grounds.

Mrs. E. J. McCarthy went to Beloit
this afternoon to visit her son, Ed, and family, for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. H. W. Conley returned home
Wednesday evening from Chicago where she has been visiting for the past two or three weeks.

O. L. Woodward will spend Sunday with his brother, Dr. O. H. Woodward, at Watkings, Ill.

Dr. R. F. Klayton is visiting his daughter, Mrs. A. S. Wankton and son, George.

Mrs. Minnie Weaver entertained her Sunday school scholars yesterday afternoon and evening at the country home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
John Milner. The little folks had a very pleasant time.

Mrs. Dan Ames and child of 17th, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. White.

MADE HAVE HIS GIGAR.

There have been many devotees of the cigar. Last was one, Miss somed says that the able could not play the piano unless he had a cigar in his mouth. But he did not light it or smoke it; he used to eat it. He would sit down to the instrument with a big cigar between his teeth and keep munching all the time he played.
When the cigar was eaten up the performance closed.

WARD GETS YOST PARK FOR GAMES

Manager of Janesville Ball Team Secures Grounds For Sunday Contents—Sign Placed For Big League Series.

Manager "Jack" Ward of the Janesville team announces that he has succeeded in coming to an agreement with the owners of Yost Park and that in the future, all the games of the "Janesville" team as well as the big league series will be played at that park. This insures good accommodations for the fans and also makes it possible to secure a neutral umpire for all the games.

Heretofore, the Janesville team has been compelled to play outside of the city because of the lack of a diamond available for Sunday games. The first game at Yost will be on July 31 when the local aggregation will meet the Warrens of Chicago. The lineup for the Janesville will be: Hall, Janesville;
C. Beale, P. Atkinson, P.; Hill,
Janesville, S.; Young, Elkhorn, B.;
Porter, Janesville, 2b.; Miller, Janesville, 3b.; Morland, Delavan, 1b.;
Calk, Janesville, c.f.; Klee, Delavan, r.f.; and Hodge, Janesville, only.

Arrangements have also been made to go to Delavan Lake Saturday morning and occupy their cottage on the assembly grounds.

Mrs. E. J. McCarthy went to Beloit
